

Recognizing the Report by the GS ... the alarming report by the CSD... , the latest report by the Club of Rome....

the Parties of the Conference may should decide to provide sufficient resources to organize within the next 2 years an Earth Governance Tribunal Trial* to:

1) identify the responsibilities for regarding the failure to achieve the central goals of the UNCED, namely achieving:

- global fairness
- Lebensfreundlichkeit / "entitlement for a healthy and productive life in harmony with nature" (Rio-Declaration, Principle 1)
- pPrecautionary Ppinciple with special emphasis to further investigate:

a)+ the role of the predominant economic model based on growth, competition and global trade

b)+ the consequences of preveiling lifestyles the lifestyle of the „global consumer class“

c)+ the effects of the current methods of political decision making

22) to request consequences for those responsible for the failure

33) to recommend proposals for change towards all states and all people for change, which ought to be realizable with the support of a qualified majority of humankind.

Especially and, for the benefit of a global fair by-example transformation : to recommend the introducing of a 'resource-based-economy'-~~built~~based on interchangeable globally tradable, personal natural-resource-allowances ("Human Right Declaration", Resolution 41/128 UN, in respect to 'development as a general cosmopolitan privilege'); ~~s~~Starting with-on the rudiments of 'Ecological Footprint' aiming-at,we consider this system as the right aim to ending overshoot and to fostering humanitarian progress.

* similar to the Russel-Tribunals. An independent, non-governmental tribunal which seeks to answer critical questions oppressed (ignored?) by state powers (originally relating to war-crimes) using the format and standards of a fair legal trial, even if it has not authorized the power to impose any sanctions.

Die dt. Ausgangsversion :

Recognizing the Report by the GS ... the alarming report by the CSD... , the latest report by the Club of Rome....

the Parties of the Conference may decide to provide sufficient resources to organize within the next 2 years an Earth Governance Trial* to

1) identify the responsibilities for the failure to achieve the central goals of the UNCED namely achieving

- global fairness
- Lebensfreundlichkeit / “entitlement for a healthy and productive life in harmony with nature” (Rio-Declaration, Principle 1)
- Precautionary Principle with special emphasis to investigate

- + the role of the predominant economic model based on growth, competition and global trade
- + the consequences of the lifestyle of the „global consumer class“
- + the effects of the current methods of political decision making

2) request consequences for those responsible for the failure

3) recommend proposals towards all states and all people for change, which ought to be realizable with the support of a qualified majority of humankind.

Especially and for example by introducing a resource-economy built on globally tradable, personal resource-allowances, starting with Ecological Footprint, aiming at ending overshoot and fostering humanitarian progress.

* similar to the Russel-Tribunals. An independent, non governmental tribunal which seeks to answer critical questions oppressed by state powers (originally relating to war-crimes) using the format and standards of a fair legal trial, even if it has not the power to impose any sanctions.